AMENDING THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY RETIREMENT ACT OF 1964 FOR CERTAIN EMPLOYEES, AS AMENDED

December 17, 1970.—Committed to the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union ordered to be printed

Mr. Philbin, from the Committee on Armed Services, submitted the following

REPORT

[To accompany S. 4571]

The Committee on Armed Services, to whom was referred the bill (S. 4571) to amend the Central Intelligence Agency Retirement Act of 1964 for certain employees, as amended, and for other purposes, having considered the same, report favorably thereon without amendment and recommend that the bill do pass.

PURPOSE OF THE BILL

The bill makes certain changes in the CIA Retirement Act of 1964 which will conform to provisions enacted into law with respect to the Civil Service Retirement Act. The bill also makes two other changes.

The conforming amendments deal with definitions relating to child survivors, commencement date of annuities, and a formula for crediting prior Federal service not covered by contributions. The remaining two changes provide for transfer of employer contributions into and out of the CIA retirement fund and increase the ceiling on retirements.

BACKGROUND

The CIA Retirement Act was enacted to provide a comprehensive retirement and disability program for a limited number of employees whose duties either were in support of Agency activities abroad, hazardous to life or health, or so specialized as to be clearly distinguish-able from normal Government employment.

The Central Intelligence Agency operates under two retirement systems—the regular civil service retirement system for the majority of its employees and the one established under the CIA Retirement Act for a smaller number. The primary purpose of the latter system is to sustain a shorter career base for service where the conditions of employment are substantially different from those associated with normal Government employment. Key provisions of the CIA Retirement Act include a straight 2-percent factor in the computation formula and retirement eligibility at age 50 after 20 years of service, both modeled after civil service provision for certain personnel involved in law enforcement activities (5 U.S.C. 8336(c)). Other provisions of the CIA Retirement Act are, for the most part, also patterned after those of the civil service retirement system.

As the principal features of the CIA and the civil service systems are the same, failure to keep pace with civil service improvements tends to dilute the effectiveness of the CIA retirement system, especially where comparability once existed.

Public Law 90–539 (bringing the cost-of-living provision of the CIA Retirement Act back into consonance with the civil service retirement system) and Public Law 91–185 (incorporating the benefits of the McGee-Daniels bill) serve as precedent for the approval of conforming amendments for the CIA Retirement Act as proposed in this report.

SECTIONAL ANALYSIS

DEFINITION "CHILD"

Section 1

Section 1 does three things: First, it eliminates the requirement that a child be dependent upon a parent retiree in order to receive a survivor annuity. The present definition of a child requires that the child receive more than half his support from the participant to be eligible. This requirement could defeat a survivor annuity based on the service of a working mother. This support requirement was eliminated from the Civil Service Retirement Act by the 89th Congress. (Public Law 89-504.)

Second, it also raises from 21 to 22 the maximum age for receiving survivor annuity payments as a student and increases from 4 to 5 months as the maximum absence from school which may be permitted without terminating the survivor annuity. This will aid survivor children enrolled in trisemester programs to secure employment and earn money without losing their annuity.

This same action was taken by the 89th Congress for student beneficiaries under the Civil Service Retirement Act. (Public Law 89-407, 504.)

Lastly, it permits a natural child to share in the distribution of any money in the CIA retirement and disability fund. The act today clearly permits a natural child to receive an annuity but it is not entirely clear with respect to lump-sum benefits. This would correct this deficiency.

A similar provision amending the Civil Service Retirement Act was approved by the 89th Congress. (Public Law 89-407.)

CHILD'S ANNUITY

Section 2

This section provides for the commencement and termination date for a child survivor annuity and assures that the survivor annuity of a student may be resumed even though it had previously been terminated, as for example, because of military service. Today once an annuity has been terminated because of an absence between school terms in excess of the maximum absence authorized, the annuity cannot be resumed.

A similar amendment to the Civil Service Retirement Act was approved by the 89th Congress. (Public Law 89–504.)

ANNUITY COMMENCEMENT DATE

Section 3

This section makes a technical change in the law which will authorize the commencement of an annuity as soon as the individual enters a nonpay status. Under existing law, an annuitant must wait until the beginning of the month following his date of separation.

It also incorporates specific provisions for termination of annuities to retirees and survivors.

This will conform the CIA retirement system to the civil service retirement system in this respect. (5 U.S.C. 8345.)

PRIOR SERVICE CREDIT (PARTICIPANTS)

Section 3

Section 3 makes a technical change in the law which will provide an option to credit prior civilian service for which no deductions have been made by reducing the resulting annuity by 10 percent of the amount owed. This will conform the CIA retirement system to the civil service system in this respect. (5 U.S.C. 8339(h).)

INCREASE IN CEILING OF NUMBER WHO MAY BE RETIRED

Section 4

Section 4 increases to 800 the retirement ceiling imposed on anticipated retirements through June 30, 1974. Under existing law, retirements during the formative years of the system were limited to 400 for the first 5-year period ending June 30, 1969, and 400 for the second 5-year period ending June 30, 1974. In the absence of actuarial experience the establishment of a ceiling on retirements was necessarily somewhat arbitrary. The ceiling was established with the understanding of all concerned that it would be adjusted as necessary. Experience to date has indicated that the ceiling of 400 for the second 5-year period is insufficient. In the interest of orderly and equitable personnel management an increase in this ceiling is essential. The Agency is rapidly reaching the ceiling now established by law and without the increase would be unable to accommodate the numbers who will go on the retired list prior to June 1974.

TRANSFER OF GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS

Section 5

Under existing law, an individual who transfers into the CIA retirement fund from some other Government retirement system can transfer his contributions from the other fund to the CIA fund, but there is no provision for transfer of the Government contribution to such fund

Also, when an individual transfers from the CIA retirement fund to some other Government retirement fund, there is no provision for the transfer of either the Government's contribution or his own contribution to the non-CIA retirement fund. This section would correct the inequities of this situation.

The Civil Service Commission is wholly in accord with this change.

PRIOR SERVICE CREDIT (SURVIVORS)

Section 6

Section 6 makes a technical change in the law granting to survivors the same right afforded participants to purchase retirement credit for prior civilian service.

This will conform the CIA retirement system to the civil service retirement system in this respect. (5 U.S.C. 8334)

FISCAL DATA

The amendments do not involve a measurable cost impact for either fiscal year 1971 or fiscal year 1972.

DEPARTMENTAL DATA

Enactment of this legislation has the support of the Central Intelligence Agency and the approval of the Office of Management and Budget as evidenced by the letter from the Acting Director of Central Intelligence dated October 13, 1970, which is set out below and made a part of this report.

The proposals are explained in detail in the sectional analysis and explanation which is enclosed.

We would appreciate early and favorable consideration of the proposed legislation. The Office of Management and Budget has advised that there is no objection to presenting the proposed legislation to the Congress from the standpoint of the Administration's program.

Sincerely,

R. E. Cushman, Jr., Lieutenant General, USMC, Acting Director.
